

CRTE Faculty Seminar Series with Certificate

Open to all faculty (Senate and Non-Senate), post-docs, and instructional staff

2012-13 Theme: Teaching with New Media

CENTER FOR RESEARCH ON TEACHING
EXCELLENCE
AT UC MERCED

Spring 2013 Schedule

Teaching with Twitter

Tuesday, February 19: 10am-11am in KL 260

In this hands-on workshop, participants will learn how Twitter works and ways to implement it into your class to improve student engagement and learning.

Teaching with Digital Collections

Wednesday, March 20: 11am-12pm in KL 260

In this hands-on workshop, participants will learn about available digital collections and explore how these can be incorporated into your curriculum.

Assessing Asynchronous Online Learning

Thursday, April 4: 11am-12pm in KL 260

In this hands-on workshop, participants will learn about effective practices in assessing asynchronous.

Creating a Personal Learning Network

Monday, April 22: 10am-11am in KL 260

In this hands-on workshop, participants will learn about practical strategies and suggested tools to help participants create their own PLN.

Final Project Showcase and Certificate Ceremony

Monday, May 13: 11am-1pm in KL 260

Come and see final project presentations and posters created by the participants of this year's Teaching with New Media Certificate Series. This end of the year celebration is open to all faculty, instructional staff, and post-doc fellows.

*If you cannot attend these workshops, you can still get credit towards the certificate by attending a Teaching and Technology webinar or a Mobile App Learning Lounge (MALL) event and submitting a one-page reflection within one week of event. Please visit our website for more details: <http://crte.ucmerced.edu/fssworkshops>. CROPS webinars cannot be used for credit. If you have questions, please contact Mike Truong at mtruong@ucmerced.edu

